

QQI

Quality and Qualifications Ireland
Dearbhú Cáilíochta agus Cáilíochtaí Éireann

QUALITY PROFILE

TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY DUBLIN

Type of Institution:
TECHNOLOGICAL UNIVERSITY

QQI | CINNTE
Institutional Review 2021

+353 (0) 1 905 8100

THE REVIEW TEAM COMMENDS

- 1 The comprehensive process TU Dublin has undertaken towards developing its strategy.
- 2 The institutional self-evaluation report (ISER), which is a coherent and self-evaluative portrayal of the university's progress towards achieving a unified quality assurance and enhancement framework.
- 3 TU Dublin for the process it has undertaken to develop its Academic Quality Framework (AQF)
- 4 TU Dublin's use of communities of practice for the sharing of pedagogic expertise and development of institutional learning.
- 5 The alignment of the university's quality review processes with its equality, diversity and inclusion strategies.

Full Report

Review Handbook

Terms of Reference

THE REVIEW TEAM RECOMMENDS

- 1 TU Dublin moves quickly towards establishing a 'one university' structure; consolidate governance and academic structures; eliminate any duplication of functions across campuses and maintain focus on the simplification of structures and processes.
- 2 The university undertakes a holistic and objective assessment of the programme portfolio in light of the anticipated competence and skills needs of wider society and the profile that it wishes to achieve.
- 3 TU Dublin expedites the initiatives aimed at achieving equity and consistency of student experience.
- 4 TU Dublin moves swiftly to identify areas of research strength as a priority to bolster the strategic importance of the university.
- 5 The university prioritise the findings arising from the self-evaluation process and allocate appropriate resources to ensure the recommendations can be progressed quickly and the momentum of the process can be maintained.

Review Team

Annual Quality Reports

Follow-Up Report