About MI:LAB

We believe that merging design, education and research can act as a powerful catalyst for innovation and change; facilitating new ways of understanding challenges, collaborating and creating meaningful solutions.

Mi:Lab integrates the collective intelligence and creativity of the University to rigorously reframe challenges, define unmet needs and experiment towards a more a desirable future.

We help MU staff to understand challenges & opportunities and we support research projects to truly understand human needs and develop and communicate creative solutions.

We provide a neutral "safe space" for staff & students to share experiences and we use the gained insight to co-create solutions to enhance the university

We find & share actionable insight, we identify latent needs and carry out rapid applied research to aid decision making

Okay, let's do some work
